Ms. Nada Ruddock
NBC 5
3900 Barnett Street
Fort Worth, Texas 76103

Dear Ms. Ruddock,

Thank you for your donation of a Dallas Mavericks and Dallas Stars Suite to Big Brothers Big Sisters of North Texas. Each year, private contributions provide additional funding to support the programs offered by Big Brothers Big Sisters. Thanks to you and others like you, our agency can continue to improve the lives of many more at-risk children in our seventeen-county area.

Through our mentoring programs, kids from single-parent homes are matched with adult volunteers who provide them with friendship, guidance and support. Your contribution allows us to create and support these one-to-one relationships as well as provide services to the children waiting to be matched with a Big Brother or Big Sister. In addition to the one-to-one matching, we provide professional case management, school and corporate-based mentoring, recreational and educational activities and other programs that help our kids graduate high school and pursue higher education.

Proper credit of your donation has been entered into our records. Your contribution is fully tax deductible to the extent allowed by law. In compliance with tax laws regarding charitable gifts, we acknowledge that no goods or services were provided in exchange for your donation.

Again, we thank you for your support of our programs. Your investment will make a positive impact on the lives of the children we serve.

Sincerely,

Becky Bullard

Fort Worth, TX 76103

Dear Ms. Ruddock:

With the end of 2003 and the beginning of the New Year, we want to once again thank NBC 5/KXAS-TV for sponsoring Children's Advocacy Centers™ of Texas' 2003 Author Luncheon. Your generous donation enabled us to raise $30,000 to support 52 Children's Advocacy Centers throughout the state, providing services for more than 25,000 child victims of abuse this year. We are also pleased to announce the opening of 6 new centers this past fall. With these additions, Children's Advocacy Centers now serve 136 of Texas' 254 counties, reaching 90% of the state's population. Thank you for helping ensure that many, many children in our state have access to the caring and compassionate services a Children's Advocacy Center provides.

Additionally, we are pleased to announce that Andrew Vachss, well-known attorney and author who has devoted his life to protecting children will be the featured speaker for the 2004 Author Luncheon. Since 1971 Mr. Vachss has been tireless in his efforts to understand and respond to the issue of child maltreatment. His significant impact in this critical area has been through means as diverse as advocacy, legal representation, lectures, articles, consultations, and program development. He devotes his legal practice exclusively to representing abused children and youth. Beyond these formal efforts Mr. Vachss has used his well-known and respected crime novels as another powerful means to illuminate this issue for an even broader audience. He is the recipient of several literary awards and is a well-known lecturer and speaker. His many books include the "Burke" series in which the protagonist is a former child abuse victim, and "Another Chance To Get It Right", a collection of short stories on how to protect children from abuse. He has appeared on the Oprah Winfrey show and is a frequent contributor to Parade Magazine.

More information about the luncheon and Mr. Vachss will be sent to you soon, but in the meantime if you have any questions please contact our office, (512) 258 - 9920. Enclosed you will find a form for your tax records regarding your 2003 sponsorship and charitable contribution. Again, thank you for supporting Children's Advocacy Centers™ of Texas.

Sincerely,

Debbie Davis

Dear Sir or Madam:

Like everyone, I depend on weather reports to help me decide my week and day. No one is better at forecasting and reporting weather than Troy Dungan. He blazes a trail few are able to follow. He's the master of his realm. I respect him for his charity work, like his Christmas Toys for Tots drive. And I appreciate his devotion (He often stays late in incremental weather, to insure nothing serious is brewing in the sky, or to insure the threatening weather has passed). I depend on his weather reports. But the one thing he has that not one of his competitors on channels 5 and 11 have is style. From his bow ties to his smile, he has everyone beat. He has style, a flair for relaying the latest in weather.

Out of everyone on your staff, weather and news, Mr. Dungan is whom I appreciate the most.

Sincerely,

Will Birkholz

August 25, 2003

Dear Sir or Madam:

I would like to take a few minutes to tell you why Daybreak is my favorite news program to watch in the morning. The main reason I believe channel 8 offers the best morning news—the reason you rise far above your competitors on channels 5 and 11—are your anchors. Just as pasta is only as good as its sauce, news is only as good as its anchors. While all your anchors do a great job, your obvious star is Scott Sams. Mr. Sams' folksy and witty humor makes him a joy to watch. He comes across as a true-and-true, born-and-raised Texan. I regularly laugh at his jokes and homespun ways, and that sets me off on the right footing in the morning—in a good mood to face the day. Just as important as having a good breakfast is starting the day in a good mood. Running parallel with Mr. Sams' homey demeanor is his professionalism. He's very sharp and knows his job well.

Now, Mr. Sams is not the only reason I watch channel 8 Daybreak. Debbie Denmon is also professional, knows her job well, and is pleasant to watch and is another reason I watch your news program. You've had several anchor changes, as your anchors play musical chairs, but Ms. Denmon seems able to mesh perfectly with anyone she co-anchors—and that's a skill few have.

I would also like to acknowledge Alexa Conomos. She is not only easy on the eyes, she gives the driving report with flair.

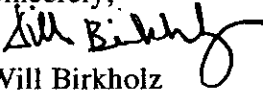

Greg Fields and Steve McCanley round out the cast of characters. They give accurate and polished weather reports. They leave their competition on channels 5 and 11 in their wake.

I appreciate the fill-in anchors as well. Brad Hawkins, Jeff Brady, Jim Douglas, and Janet St. James are great, too.

How your news team is able to have a pleasant attitude and flash smiles everyday is beyond me. But they all do it. Again, I watch news 8 Daybreak because of Scott Sams, Debbie Denmon, Greg Fields, Steve McCanley, Alexa Conomos, Brad Hawkins, Jeff Brady, Jim Douglas, and Janet St. James. Keep up the great work!

I hope I didn't leave anyone out. If I did, include him or her in the round up.

Sincerely,

Will Birkholz

I want to thank you for your HDTV broadcasts and encourage you to do more of them. Monday night football is terrific and we often watch prime-time shows that are in HDTV.

Please keep taking a leadership role in bringing this new technology to us, especially sporting events. College football would be great in HD.

Dear Phil:

Thanks very much for your recent letter! We really appreciate your kind words.

WFAA has put a lot of time, energy, and capital into HD technology. We've also encouraged the network and syndication studios to provide more high definition programming. And no question, sports events are perfect for this format. We expect that as the technology advances, more of the competitions will be televised in HD (including college football).

I have enclosed my business card. Feel free to call if you'd like an update on the availability of any program in HDTV.

Thanks again for writing.

Thank you very much for airing "Town Hall Meeting with Peter Jennings" on Sunday evening (5:00 P. M. November 23, 2003 on channel 8; WFAA).

The program was extremely information and the panel very professional. The broadcast helped me to view the news, coverage and programming (not only regular news broadcasts, but also programs like "Sixty Minutes") in a whole new light.

As brought up in the program concerning the U. S. being isolationist in our view and knowledge of the world, I would recommend that the news media evolve to include world views in coverage as well as more in depth coverage of events from around the world.

Thank you, again for air this program! The panelists are extremely well trained, knowledgeable professionals! It is great to know that people like Peter Jennings as well as the rest of the staff are well informed and take the time and effort to know what is going on in other news around the world.

Dear Mr. Muscari:

On behalf of the Greater Dallas Veterans Foundation, 2001 Chairman Cloyde Pinson and the entire board, we want to thank you for your fantastic support of the annual Dallas Veterans Day Parade with PSAs and news stories.

Your efforts resulted in a great turnout for the parade, the biggest ever for Dallas. The patriotism shown by Dallasites, including parade participants was greatly enhanced by your dedication and support of this tribute to our veterans and those who made the ultimate sacrifice both in the military and during the tragedy of September 11th.

The Dallas Veterans parade committee is indebted to your support.

Cordially,

Jeffrey Kahla, Maj Gen USAF (Ret.)

Sir,

This past week the Tarrant County Jail received video equipment from Floyd Cable for broadcasting Closed Circuit Crime Stopper information within the jail.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for your generous contribution of the equipment your organization donated to the Tarrant County Jail. It will be put to good use.

Thank you again for the contribution.

Dear Gary:

Now I know why you are often referred to as the "dean" of reporters in the Dallas area. You do a masterful job in presenting the news in a fair and objective manner, yet allowing a glimpse of the human element.

You and Shelly Kofler and other members of the Channel 8 News team did a fine job of reporting the unfortunate vandalism of St. Luke "Community" United Methodist Church.

Your inclusion of the human element of how this personally touched me (although I am intensively private about personal feelings) and other members of St. Luke, made the story real to your viewers. It was no longer "just television." Sometimes when we do our jobs and do them well (as you do on a consistent basis) there are expected and unexpected consequences. Here, the unexpected consequence was that your call to Shelly to interview me started a chain reaction. The chain was my personal privilege speech on the House floor - members of the House joining me to approach the Senate - Senators making personal privilege speeches - a Senator reconsidering his vote to have the bill on the Senate floor and now the promise of a full hearing.

Gary, thank you for the job that you do in reporting the news fairly and objectively in a consistent manner.

Sincerely,

Helen Giddings

I would like to thank you for broadcasting the Easter Sunday, 11:00AM service on Channel 8. Also, for broadcasting the Palm Sunday service last week.

I really appreciated being able to see these two services from our local churches. Thank you.

Sincerely, Jo Mill

Dear Lori,

Thank you for your support of American Heart Month during February. Our mission at the American Heart Association is to ensure the community is aware of their No. 1 and No. 3 health threats and are armed with the knowledge needed to do something about it.

Claiming one person every 33 seconds, heart disease and stroke are the number one and three killers in North Texas. Through your support, we have been able to educate our community about the risk factors of heart disease and life-saving CPR training and AED programs.

Again, thank you for your continuous support. We look forward to working with you in the future.

Dear Jerry:

In these turbulent times, it's immensely gratifying to witness Dallas' unwavering commitment to volunteerism as we did at the 23rd annual Outstanding Volunteer of the Year Awards Celebration on April 14th. The room brimmed with civic responsibility and passion for our community. More than 1000 people gathered to honor extraordinary individuals, groups and businesses whose selfless actions inspire and motivate. The tireless efforts of these and other such volunteers strengthen the nonprofit sector – this year in particular.

As a Corporate Partner, your generosity allows the Volunteer Center to provide this celebration, a vehicle through which we can applaud our great citizens. You consistently demonstrate a strong dedication to volunteerism and the Volunteer Center. For that we are truly grateful. You enable us to distribute millions of dollars in donated time and materials to the North Texas nonprofit community.

We have received many compliments on the video that showcased our winners. A civic-minded individual has donated his time and resources by creating this video for the 2002 and 2003 luncheon. We have enclosed Rick Hublein's business card with the hope that you will call him the next time your company has creative or media design needs.

Thank you for supporting our annual tribute and salute to the volunteers who give so unselfishly of their time and talents. Most importantly, thanks for being one of our greatest champions!

Sincerely,

Julie Thomas
